

After a life changing event my life was quickly flipped upside down, literally.

When I was younger I was involved in a terrible car accident, and I wouldn't say I was grateful for the event to have occurred but it definitely forced me to head in the direction of where I am today.

Since the incident, I have spent 38+ years in Property Development and have accomplished more than I could ever have imagined.

Property development is a pathway I wish upon everybody... all those with patience, courage and of course a successful mindset.

Throughout my time in property development I have created more property millionaires in Australia than any other educator / mentor out there and this is through our highly acclaimed property development course.

Bob's Ethos

When it comes to creating financial freedom for our followers, my "thinking" is refreshingly simple. I have the ability to make the seemingly complicated, uncomplicated.

I have changed the lives of many people by training them to use property development as a vehicle to build substantial cashflow and long term wealth. This in turn, has given them control over their lives and a lifestyle they could previously only dream about.

Throughout my career, I have been involved in over $1 billion worth of property development projects that include commercial buildings, apartments, high-rise buildings, retirement complexes, land sub-divisions, townhouses, student accommodation and I'm not stopping anytime soon.

Recession-proof?

I have been involved in property throughout our latest pandemic COVID-19, the GFC and everything in between.

If there is one word that has stuck with me throughout all of these, it would be tenacity. The act of being fearless, showing grit and determination and like all other pandemics, those who are tenacious are the ones who come out the other end with more than what they had started with.

I've had many phone calls recently asking me where I think the market is heading, people wondering if they should stop their current project or should they be buying more... I always remind them that people need food on the table and a roof over their head, so if you're in property, then you're on the right track.
